

The Francis Hutcheson Institute (FHI)

“Wisdom denotes the pursuing of the best ends by the best means”

AFTER HAASS: FLAGS, PARADES, PROTESTS AND THE PAST DISCUSSION - THE WAY FORWARD

Venue: Belfast, Ramada Encore Hotel, Cathedral Quarter
Saturday 15th March 2014

9.30am for 10am tea/coffee start:

Introduction

Speakers to include -

Professor Arthur Aughey (University of Ulster)

Rev Mervyn Gibson (East Belfast Presbyterian Minister)

Michael Copeland (East Belfast M.L.A.)

Dr. James Dingley (Q.U.B. & F.H.I.)

There will be a mid-morning coffee break at around 11-15 for 15 minutes followed by the final presentations and questions until around 12-30.

After this we aim to round off with an hours discussion and, hopefully, some conclusions or suggestions to take forward. We particularly wish to take contributions from the floor, so everyone is encouraged to participate.

Attendance is strictly by registration and numbers will be limited, so please register early.

Registration will be based on the return of the form below and payment of £10 to cover hotel costs

Further enquiries can be made to info@fhinst.co.uk
